USING CONTRACTORS

It has been our experience in the U.S. since 1989, that cleanup contractors do not want to use OSE II because it is too cost effective and efficient.

One large contractor, who tested OSE II, said "It works great, but we make more money the old-fashioned way," i.e. using lots of labor, material, and time. Their preferred method is to dig and haul.

Unfortunately, when you "dig and haul" your contamination, all you have done is move your problem and you still own the contaminated soil!

Contractors should use OSE II. It would allow them to do a more effective cleanup and would allow them to earn more profit.

You should require that your cleanup contractors use OSE II! It will save you money and you eliminate your problem - permanently!
